

MAY SIM

May Sim is an entrepreneur, speaker, astrology consultant and founder of Selfstrology Academy – a Western Astrology consultancy firm.

At age 26, she left a lucrative corporate career managing a company with more than 20 staff, to become the first Asian to graduate from the International Academy of Astrology (IAA) and the first Asian to teach in the Academy.

With over a decade of experience, she is a subject matter expert on Psychological Astrology, and a sought-after speaker at international astrology conferences.

May has served more than 3,000 clients and has taught astrology to students from more than 12 countries. She believes in sharing her experience to inspire individuals to pursue their life purposes and fulfilling careers, without being held back by their psychological constraints.

May has been prominently featured in both local and international media, online and offline.

These include:
MediaCorp's iWeekly Magazine,
The New York Times Style Magazine
The Smart Local - Zula.sg
The Finder Magazine
